EDITORIAL.

This issue of the Advocate is an extra large one, to be sent to every home in our church. We hope that it may be received in the same spirit in which it is sent. It is a special College Endowment number, and we ask that it have a specially attentive reading.

One of our readers writes as follows: "How easy it is these days for some of our people to go over into Hymn-singing churches and leave the psalms altogether behind them. How easy for them to go over into churches who dare not try one of their members for denying the Inspiration of the Scriptures, Future Punishment, the Atonement and Virgin Birth, all of which are taught in our Reformation Principles, the Confession of faith and Catechisms Larger and Shorter; the faith of the fathers does not seem to have much weight with the sons. What is the matter? That it is easy is not questioned. What is the matter, may be answered in different ways but we should not be surprised in these days at such happenings, when popularity and money are the gods."

We are tried to-day as Elijah was, but thank God, there is still a remnant to serve Him, and their duty is to be faithful in their more humble places, regardless of the actions of others.

Two years ago the Marissa Congregation on account of being unable to obtain a sufficient supply of preaching to maintain its existence asked to be disorganized, and put the property into the hands of the Presbytery to be disposed of as they saw best. On Sept. 6, 1921 the property was sold. We were not informed who the purchaser was, but those who were members at the time of the dissolution, decided to give the Pulpit Bible to a former pastor Rev. R. W. Chesnut, who presented it to them in 1888 on the occasion of entering the ministry as pastor; being a gift from the L. M. S. of the 4th R. P. Church Philadelphia. No gift from the remnant of our old Charge could be more highly appreciated. This old Bible from which we preached for over 16 years will ever be kept sacred to the memory of the loyal, faithful people who remained faithful until all hope of relief was gone. Thank you!

LETTER FROM KENTUCKY

Houston, Ky. Sept. 7, 1921.

Dear Friends,

While sitting out on the porch in the cool of the evening and wondering what I should write, I can't help but look on the hillside and think how beautiful God has made nature. It is perhaps the most that we admire, for we can't help but look at the hills and their beautiful trees.

This week is School Betterment week throughout the state and the children are cleaning up, improving school grounds and home premises.

We have had several visitors visiting our school this week, Mr. Squire Deaton, Truant Officer and County Superintendent, Fallen Campbell of Jackson, Ky. This is the first time they have visited our mission. We are glad to welcome them. A program preceding Mr. Campbell's talk was given consisting of recitations, songs and a pantomime, Star Spangled Banner. He gave a fine talk to the boys and girls. Mr. Duncan had the children give a yell and nine raths for Mr. Campbell. They all enjoy giving yells.

Miss Cunningham and eight of her pupils attended the boy's and girl's Junior Agriculture Club which was held at St. Helena, Ky. From August 15 to August 19. There were seven counties represented and over one hundred in attendance. It was a great experience to all of them as some never saw or rode on a train before. It was also instructive as the mornings were spent in school work, afternoons in games and the evenings in camp entertainment and vespers. Lessons in obedience, self-control and morals were learned.

Miss Leanna Spence who helped to teach this summer left August 30 to begin her college work in Penn College which is situated at Oskaloosa, Iowa. She is greatly missed here but we are all glad she is able to receive an education. Mr. Duncan is teaching the advanced grades with an attendance of twenty-one while Miss Cunningham has thirty-six pupils in the primary room. They are kept very busy. Mr. Duncan is kept very busy at something all the time either teaching, preaching, visiting or doing repair work. At present time, he, with the help of the boys and neighbors, are ceiling the schoolhouse. Any one who has seen it, knows it is badly needed. We had failed several times to secure lumber for this purpose that had been promised. The building was papered six years ago and was badly in need of repair.

There are six of us in the dormitory but I am kept busy. We certainly do miss the fruit. It is the first year in fifteen years that there has been no fruit to can. We did can one can of blackberries.

Two weeks ago, Friday night, we had a social here. About thirty enjoyed the evening. Games of all kinds were played, guessing contest, music on the Victrola and the organ was enjoyed by all. Later in the evening home made candy was served to all present.

Friends, we need your prayers. Do not forget we are working for Christ and need your help.

Yours for the Master,

Irma Creswell.

DO THE YOUNG PEOPLE OF THIS GENERATION HAVE TO MUCH AMUSEMENT FOR THEIR GOOD ?

Read before the Women's Presbyterial Missionary Society of the Western Presbytery.

Yes I think they do. There is an old "saw" that goes like this. "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." It is a poor rule that will not work both ways. The old saying does say what effect it will have on Jack if he plays all the time. He would be quite frivolous. In this day and generation, most young folks and old folks are on a mad rush for entertainment all the time and there are so many socials, picnics, dances, movies, ballgames, shows, carnivals, and so forth, that if one attended them all, and the young folks don't want to miss anything, there would be no time left for work. Some might argue they could "take all those in" and still lose no time when they should be resting or sleeping, so their brain and body would be in fit condition for their tasks. The all play system has a tendency to lighten the mind. A short time ago I attended a few sessions of the chautauqua and I noticed that after the music, readings and so forth were done, almost all the young folks arose and left the building, thus missing the excellent lectures that were in reality given for the benefit of the young people, and they were too light minded to stay and listen. How then is the lecturer to reach them? A good many popular amusements are questionable. Take the picture show, for one, a good clean reel could be made instructive, but I fear the class mostly shown is wild west stuff. Fights, robberies, and things children should not be allowed to see. The same having a demoralizing effect on them. A few months ago a Banker in our town was accosted by a small boy with a toy pistol and told to hold up his hands. Where did the boy get the idea? From the moving picture. The Banker did the right thing in this case. He put the boy out of the Bank after administering a sound spanking. Six days in the week seem too short to get in all the amusements so the Sabbath is desecrated by base ball and joy riding and so on. No one who gives his life to seeking pleasure can be a true child of God. II Tim. 3:4 Traitors, heady, highminded, lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God: I would like to make an appeal to young mothers.

Teach your child that work is a blessing." That play is a reward for work well done. That he should not play all the little games on the Sabbath that would be harmless on week days And begin as soon as the child is able to understand. For the home after all is the cradle of all reforms. Mrs. John Chiesnut:

WORK ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

Read before the Women's Presbyterial Missionary Society of the Western Presbytery.

Does definite Christian work among children and young people pay?

Personally I know of no work which is more interesting, and brings greater joy, or greater results. When we remember that it is from the children of today that our future citizens and leaders in the business, political and national worlds; our future Christian workers, Christian leaders and missionaries are to come; and also that it is during the Junior and teen ages that children are most easily led to the Savior, and that many of the choices and decisions of life are made. We cannot but see the importance of the work; nor can we be too careful of the training we give these young people.

Experts tell us that only a small per cent are won for the church after the teen age.

It is so interesting to watch young life developé under Christian influence.

Great possibilities are wrapped up in our boys and girls; and it is the business of the Sabbath School and church to bring these boys and girls to Christ, and train them for His service. Either at home or abroad, wherever He call them to work, We are not giving them all the religious training we should unless we teach them missions; and give them the world view of the world's needs; and their duty to send or carry the gospel and its blessings to the boys and girls, men and women of all other nations. I know of one little girl who decided when she was eleven, that she wanted to be a foreign missionary. She is now thirteen, and is looking forward to, and planning for that, as her life work. She was led to make this decision partly through the study of junior mission books in the mission band meetings.

As I look over the boys and girls of our Sabbath School here in Los Angeles I see in them great possibilities, and I often find myself wondering just what the future holds in store for them.

It is our earnest prayer that the Holy Spirit will lead every one of them to take Christ as their Saviour, and that He will use them all in his service; and also give us wisdom and help to train them just as He would have them trained.

I am going to tell you of some of the encouragements we have had during the past year.

Our hearts were made very happy in June, when another girl from the Sabbath School confessed Christ as her Saviour and was baptized. She is sixteen and a half, and an unusually bright girl. She started into the school when about four years old and has stayed with us ever since. She is secretary of the Sabbath School; and has been teaching a class of junior boys for the past two years. We had to call her into service at an early age, because of our great need of more teachers.

In June she graduated from High School with honors, was one of the best in a class of 206. She was chosen along with three others to give her essay at commencement. She was assistant editor of the school paper, and also, of their annual. This fall she expects to enter the University of California here in Los Angeles.

The joy that came with the little part we had in helping to win such a bright life for the Saviour more than repaid us for many years of toil; and I think has made our Sabbath School in Los Angeles worth while.

None of her family are church members. Her mother joined the Baptist Church several years ago, but does not hold her membership there now. She has attended our church services a good deal, and taught in the Sabbath School a while, but ill health has prevented her coming much the last two years.

The Sabbath Theresia was baptised, her father and mother, and grandfather and grandmother were all present. I feel she will be a real missionary in the home, as she is the only child, and the only grandchild, and consequently a great pet. Her grandfather made the remark, that he had lived beside our little church for a good many years, and had not taken any interest in it; but now that his little granddaughter had come in he felt differently.

We were making some repairs about the church the latter part of June. He is very handy in fixing things around his home, and as it is difficult to find people who are at leisure, and willing to do odd jobs, I asked him if he would repair the screens for me, which he very willingly did, and also painted the floor and front steps. Now he has made this very kind offer, that if we can raise the money to buy the paint, he will paint the outside of the church for us in the fall, and not charge anything for his work.

He said he was glad, Theresia joined our church. Had she joined one of the large, fashionable churches, he would have felt she was joining for the sake of her friends, or from some worldly motive, but when she chose our little church, he felt she was sincere in her motive, and that she had really joined the church.

Pray dear sisters, that the whole family may soon be brought in. I am sure the Spirit is working on all their hearts.

Four others united with us at our June communion. We felt we had much reason for encouragement. Three came by certificate, a mother and daughter, who recently came from Ireland, and an old grandmother 92 years old, who recently came into our neighborhood, and was glad to find a church home there. She is almost blind, and quite lame, and walks to church every Sabbath with the aid of crutches.

Not many congregations have two members 92 years old, as we have now. Mr. Hedges has reached that age, but is still quite active and in possession of all his faculties. He comes regularly every Sabbath, a distance of several miles. He is a wonderful man. God has fulfilled His promise to him in satisfying him with long life.

The other one who joined is the mother of one of our little boys, and a member of the Home Department. She is a sincere Christian, and has two little boys she is training for the Saviour. Her duties prevent her from taking an active part in church work, but she is doing all she can.

There is another young girl who is a member of the S. S. and church. She joined in December 1919. She is 14 and a half, and a devoted Christian and conscientious in all she does. She is the only church member in her home. She is a remarkable child for her years. She is teaching in our primary department this summer while the other teacher is away. Not long ago she told me that sometimes her mother used to go to the picture shows Sabbath afternoons, and wanted her to go with her but she felt it was not right to do so, and now her mother respects her wishes, and does not go, nor ask her to.

The attendance at S. S. has been very good the past year, not quite as large during the summer months as during the school year. The first of this year we commenced using the closely graded system of lessons, and like it quite well. We thought for sometime of introducing them but hesitated on account of difficulty in securing suitable teachers. For nine months of the past year we had a contest in the school. Points were given for attendance, good behavior, bring in new scholars and church attendance. The reward was a blue pennant with white letters R. P. S. S. on it. Our 4th year Junior boys won it twice, and 2d year Junior girls once.

Last year the school and Junior C. E. raised $32 for the support of Dr. E. Taylor's Bible Woman without any outside help. The school raised enough to pay all its expences, gave $10 to the starving Chinese, and furnished the Christmas treat for one of the wards at the County Hospital.

We are looking forward to a visit from Dr. Taylor's next year when they return from India. We feel sure that the presence of two of our own missionaries, who are members of our little congregation here will do much to stir up new missionary interest in the hearts of our boys and girls.

There are 26 in our Home Dept. About 4 of them have moved from our neighborhood, but still continue members, and I visit them every three months when the new quarterlies come. One is mother of 4 children, who used to be in our school. When they moved I supposed the children would go to a S. S. near them, but the mother said she would continue her membership in the Home Dept. and wanted me to visit them. The children started to school a few blocks from their home, but unfortunately their teacher had little idea of the responsibility of her position, and the children lost interest, and stopped going. When I found they would not go back there, and there was no other church near without taking the street car, I suggested that they come back to us. So one of the older girls who is fifteen has come back. She would have joined the church in June if her father had given his consent. He is willing for her to attend, but does not wish her to join yet.

Through the home department I can keep a hold on some families who do not go to church, and I pray that the study of the Word in the home may lead to their conversion.

A converted Jewess lady was a member of the Home Dep't a while and did christian work among the Jews- giving Testaments to those who would read them, she has moved away. Our mission field is large and interesting. May the Lord give us wisdom to speak and do the right thing. We have not been able to keep up regularly for a while our W. M. S. meetings, but we hope to soon. Our work keeps us very busy; we try to give 12 hours a week to visiting and hunting new scholars. All other meetings have been kept up regularly. The S. S. has only been closed twice in the 21 years we have been here. If people did not move so much we could keep the children, and then we would have been obliged to build a larger building. Sometimes the young people speak to me on the street who were in our S. S. They have grown out of my knowledge.

We like to hear them tell how they are engaged in Christian work elsewhere. Work among children and young people pays. There are many discouragements and difficulties, but the joy in the work and the results over come these. Since your last meeting I have received from the treasury Mrs. White $8.75 in Dec. making $67.90 for 1920 and $36.25 for this year.

May the richest blessing rest upon your Presbyterial Meeting and on all your work for the Master, and share in that joy that comes from working together with Him.

Sincerely yours in His service,

Martha J. Ramsey, Los Angeles, Cal.

CEDARVILLE COLLEGE OPENING

The twenty-eighth year of Cedarville College, Cedarville, Ohio, opened in the College Chapel, Sept. 7, at 9 o'clock, the President, W. R. McChesney, presiding. The devotions were opened by singing selections 313 and 25 of the Psalter Hymnal. The Scripture lesson was read by the Rev. R. L. Hutchinson, pastor of the Fourth United Presbyterian Congregation at Philadelphia, Pa. graduate of the College in the class of 1918. Prayer was offered by the Rev. J. B. White, D. D. pastor of the Cedarville United Presbyterian Church. A selection was rendered by a mixed quartette consisting of Miss Dorothy Oglesbee, Miss Lucile Johnson, Mr George Markel, and Mr. Wilbur White.

The address of the day was delivered by the Rev. Professor D. H. Bauslin, D. D. Dean of the Hamma Divinity School, Lutheran, Springfield, Ohio. Dr. Bauslin referred in his preliminary remarks to his acquaintance with Cedarville College and its affairs, and congratulated the Institution upon its splendid success during the years of its history, and especially in this campaign. He also made mention of the forefathers of the various church people of this community, and their sturdy convictions and the sacrifices which they made to propagate the faith. Dr. Bauslin took as his theme "constructive methods", basing it upon the words "these are come hither who have turned the world upside down." He said there are two ways of turning the world upside down, one by the destructive method, and the other by the constructive method. Each one of us has our part to perform in one or other of these ways. All of us should desire to be constructive in our policy and efforts. In order that we may be so we must first of all be real. To be real we must be possessed of profound mental convictions. We must have rightly trained and properly developed intellectual powers, and moral and spiritual purposes that are true. In the second place, we must accept the truth and ever be ready to maintain it. In the third place, we must cultivate a meditative spirit and religiously seek times of communion with self. In the fourth place, we must avoid the frivolity of the day and be serious in our thought; sober in our judgment, upright in our character and righteous in our lives. For this purpose, this Institution and all institutions as this have been established and are being maintained.

The address was carefully prepared; forceful in diction, well delivered and well received.

After the address, prayer was offered by the Rev. Mr. Busler, pastor of the Cedarville Methodist Episcopal Church. Selection No. 297 was sung by the mixed quartette.

The Welcome address was made by President McChesney. Announcements were made by the Faculty, and the School was organized for the year. Between 90 and 100 students have registered so far in the regular College departments, about 50 have registered for Music; there will be about 15 in the Theological Seminary and about the same number in typewriting. The total enrollment in all departments will number about 150, the largest enrollment in the history of the College.

The Campaign Fund for Buildings and Endowment which started July the 11th of this year has now reached $133,000, with contributions coming in each day. This Campaign will be continued to the end of the five year or any time less than that which is necessary to secure the $200,000 for which the Campaign started. In the near future plans will be in progress for the erection of a new gymnasium, the girls' dormitory, and the remodeling of the old gymnasium into a science hall. All persons who desire to help a worthy Christian Institution can do no better than contribute to Cedarville College which has been in operation at Cedarville, Ohio, for twenty-seven years, and has sent 235 men and graduates into all parts of the world, forty of these alone being ministers of the Gospel.

Regular recitations in all departments began Thursday morning at 8 o'clock. Miss Flory, of Bridgewater, Va. who succeeds Miss Hathaway, has taken up her work in the Mathematics and Science Department.

Physical Director Blackburn, had his first meeting Wednesday afternoon to organize for football and gymnasium work.

Every available seat in the recitation rooms will be occupied, and seating space will be at a premium, while the Chapel will have to have 15 or 20 more seats added to it. The College building will be crowded to its capacity, and in the near future more room will have to be provided for recitation. The regular Faculty will be assisted this year by at least 6 instructors. The outlook for Cedarville College was never more promising. A very large and interested audience, the largest at any opening in its history, attended the opening exercises. At the close, Rev. Ernest McClellan, of the class of 1909, and pastor of the United Presbyterian Church at Rochester M. Y. pronounced the benediction.

$20,000 for OUR COLLEGE

Mr. W. J. Alford, son of the late Rev. John Alford, D. D. writes to Dr. McChesney that he will give $20,000 toward the Alford Memorial Building in Cedarville, Ohio, which is now the Gymnasium of Cedarville College. $10,000 of this amount is to be used in remodeling the building and equipping it, and $10,000 is to be set aside for the endowment of the building. Mr. Alford promises this money on condition that by the end of the year, 1921, Cedarville College shall have raised $20,000 for the same purpose, $10,000 to be used for the remodeling and equipment of the building and $10,000 for the endowment of the building. He adds that any money left over from year to year out of the interest accruing from the endowment of the building shall be turned into the College treasury for whatever purposes it may be needed. A number of years ago Mr. Alford gave for gymnasium purposes, the historic old church building in memory of his father and mother, and now he proposes to remodel and properly endow this building provided Cedarville College and its friends shall raise $20,000 additional. This is a splendid opportunity for the friends of the College to rally to the raising of the Endowment. Subscriptions and pledges may be made as usual, but this should inspire every Reformed Presbyterian to do his best to help Cedarville College reach the full Endowment and building Fund of $200,000 for which it started out. The pledge fund at this date, Sept. 8th, has reached a total of $133,000 in subscriptions and pledges; let us all get together, do our best and pledge and subscribe and pay the remaining $67,000.

CONTINUE CEDARVILLE COLLEGE CAMPAIGN.

Cedarville College called for a minimum building and endowment fund of $200,000. Of this amount $133,190 was pledged. Wednesday at noon, leaving a balance of $67,000 to be secured. Considering the depressed business and industrial conditions, a splendid start has been made toward raising the $200,000.

When it is remembered that the campaign to secure the $200,000 is to cover a period of five years, it is a source of encouragement and gratification that within the first eight weeks of the campaign two-thirds of the amount has been secured. Moreover many, who doubtless will give who have not been approached. Contributions are coming in daily. Over two hundred, who have been solicited and are likely to give, yet to be heard from. Quite a number of those who have already subscribed have signified their intention to increase their subscriptions. There are several prospects of good subscriptions. Several people are voluntarily writing to friends of means and suggesting people who should be solicited. Everybody is interested.

The one thing to keep in mind and to be intensely impressed with is this that the call of Cedarville College for $200,000 is absolutely necessary. It is positively the very least amount that the college must have to meet and satisfy the demands of the State Association of Colleges. Since this is true it remains for none of us to rest or spare our efforts until the $67,000, yet lacking is secured. At its meeting, last Friday, the Board of Trustees voted $68,000 out of the $133,000 already and which is to be added at once to the endowment which the College possessed before the campaign started. That brings the endowment up in actual holdings and subscriptions to $200,000, or the amount required by the State Association of Colleges for endowment alone; but the State Association will not recognize the college endowment until the subscription thus turned over to the endowment has been paid in and is an actual cash or money endowment. Moreover the State Association requires the science hall and the gymnasium to be erected and equipped before the college will be fully recognized. Consequently it is apparent that the sooner the subscriptions and pledges already made are paid into the college treasury, the sooner the college will receive recognition and be out of peril of having to close its doors.

Once more, let us remember that Cedarville College is not saved, not out of danger by any means until we raise and secure the remaining $67,000, or in other words the whole $200,000 which we set out to secure. Realize fully that this is the least possible amount which the college must have. Do not delay the matter thinking that it will come in five years. Now while the interest is high is the time to give and to co-operate in every possible way to save Cedarville College and establish it permanently.

Thankful to all who have given and cooperated to obtain what the college has secured, trusting in your love for the college and the church that you will untiringly continue in the work so well begun, and confident in the ultimate success of our undertakings, let us faithfully go on to finish the task committed to us.

COMMITTEE OF TEN.

At the last meeting of the Board of Trustees of Cedarville College, held Sept. 10th, a committee of ten, consisting of the following persons, was appointed to continue the direction of the Campaign for the Building and Endowment Fund of Cedarville College, and solicitation of funds for the same during the remainder of the five years:- Rev. W. R. McChesney, Rev. J. P. White, Mr. O. L. Smith Dr. M. I. Marsh, Mr. G. H. Hartman, Mr. J. C. Townsley, Mr. Edwin Dean, Mr. W. L. Clemans, Mr. W. C. Hiffe, Mr. Clayton McMillan.

ENDOWMENT FUND OF CEDARVILLE COLLEGE

Whereas, The Alumni Association of Cedarville College, numbering two hundred and twenty-three members, have challenged the village and community of Cedarville to raise $100,000 for the remodeling of the Alford Gymnasium into an up-to-date Science Hall, also for the erection of a dormitory for the girls, and another building to be a gymnasium with the guarantee that the Alumni Association will raise the same amount elsewhere for the Endowment Fund both sums to be raised within five years; and

Whereas, At a large mass meeting of the citizens of Cedarville and community held in the Cedarville Opera House, Friday evening, May 20, 1921, said citizens voted unanimously to accept such challenge; and

Whereas the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association expect to raise the $100,000 for the Endowment Fund among the Alumni themselves, students of the college, friends of the institution and the members of our Reformed Presbyterian Church, and

Whereas, the Alumni Association through their committee has asked the president of the college to secure from this General Synod at this meeting a definite action as to what support this General Synod will give toward the raising of this Endowment Fund of $100,000 during the next five years; therefore be it

Resolved, First- That this General Synod approve of the action of the Alumni Association and pledge their co-operation and that of the Presbyteries and congregations to the successful accomplishment of this project;

Second- That this General Synod pledge itself to secure during the next five years the sum of not less than $25,000 for the Endowment Fund of Cedarville College;

Third- As a ways and means to accomplish this end that the minimum amount to be asked per member in each congregation of General Synod for the Endowment Fund be $3 a year for five years;

Fourth- That this sum be raised by duplex envelope plan, subscriptions, contributions, individual gift, annuity plan, the giving of bonds, or any other way acceptable to congregations and individuals;

Fifth- That in accord with recommendation 8 of the Report of the President of Cedarville College, the pastors and Sessions arrange at their earliest possible convenience to have a meeting of pastors, sessions and trustees of the congregations with the president of the college for conference and for the promotion of plans toward the raising of the Endowment Fund.

A standing vote was taken on the above measure and every delegate in Synod pledged himself that the congregation which he represented would do its utmost during the five years to carry out the above action of General Synod.)

Cedarville College is depending upon the representatives of these congregations, and the congregations which are represented, to carry out the resolutions to the letter. Unless our congregations do meet this obligation which their representatives took upon them at the meeting of Synod, the campaign for Cedarville College will end in a failure, and the College will be lost to the Church and the community, if not closed forever.

A systematic campaign, thoroughly and definitely organized, should be conducted in every congregation at such time or times during the five years as will bring the best results. We most urgently call the attention of Pastors' Elders, Trustees, and Congregations to the necessity of meeting the obligation. Cedarville and community and Alumni Association have already raised two-thirds of the $200,000 for which the College started out in the campaign. All will agree that this is a splendid beginning. This community and the College are looking to the Church which founded this College, and in whose name it has continued and served during these years, to do its part. This part is to raise within five years the $25,000 pledge at the meeting of Synod in May. That means $5,000 a year. It may be encouraging to the congregations outside of the Cedarville Congregation to report that $2,300. of the first year's pledge has been raised in subscription and cash, leaving only $2,700 to be raised from now till the meeting of Synod in May 1922, and none of the congregations as such, has been heard from yet. We are sure, therefore, brethren, that when we hear from each of your congregations, we ought to go clear over the top in the first year, and if we do it in the first year, it will be easier to keep it up in the four years to follow.

Cedarville College is not asking for one cent more than it must have to meet the demands of the Ohio State Association of Colleges. If it meets these demands it will be saved. If it does not it will be lost and closed. After 27 years of service to the church and Christ, we simply would be condemned to allow this College to close its doors. $25,000 from the congregations outside of Cedarville Congregation is the least possible amount that we can ask for and expect, and it is possible to raise this amount if we will do our full part. The amount may be raised by subscription, by cash gifts, by giving liberty bonds, by annuities, or in any other way donors in the various congregations feel disposed to give.

Beseeching you therefore, brethren, that we get busy upon this and that we meet the exigency confronting us, and save the day for Cedarville College.

I am, yours sincerely,

W. R. McChesney, President.
